Purpose of being a part of the IEEE council:

I want to join the IEEE-VESIT council to improve my communication skills. I feel that I need to become better at talking with others. Joining this society seems like a good way to achieve that. I also want to work with a team of talented people in the council. I think this will help me learn a lot and become better at working with others.

Anticipated contribution to IEEE:

I plan to contribute to IEEE by sharing my ideas and working together with the team. I will bring a positive attitude and be ready to assist with tasks. I aim to be an active and supportive member of the IEEE council. I also hope to learn from others and grow my skills through the experiences in IEEE.

Strengths and weaknesses:

I am really good at working hard and being disciplined in everything I do. When I wake up in the morning, I plan out my whole day, which helps me manage my time well. I also believe in myself and stay positive no matter what happens in life.

I have a weakness: I sometimes find it hard to speak fluently. English is not commonly used in my background, so I don't feel very confident in it. But I'm getting better at talking every day and improving my communication skills.

Achievements:

- Participated in a state-level badminton tournament.
- Secured 1st prize in a dance competition at my Junior college.

Suitability to preferred posts :

For Junior Treasurer: I have learned a lot about handling money by taking care of accounts and keeping track of funds for my father's catering business. I also handle the yearly process of filing income taxes. Because of this, I really understand how to manage finances well. I think I can help IEEE as a Treasurer by using my financial skills and experience to support the organization's money-related tasks.

For Junior web Editor:

I have made web projects and know how websites function, including hosting them online. Because of this, I can help IEEE as a Junior Web Editor.

For Volunteer: I believe my two years of volunteering experience at school have provided me with valuable skills and a strong sense of responsibility.
